CO-PARENTING MADE EASIER

There's so much to co-ordinate when sharing the care of your children after a separation, and all of a sudden you're trying to parent via text messages and email! Now there is an easier way ... and you don't have to do it alone!

Divvito helps separated parents communicate with ease. Our co-parenting messaging app, Divvito Messenger, is powered by Dani, your very own personal messaging bot that helps keep communication on track and positive.

Hi, I'm Dani! I help keep communication:

ORGANIZED

Organize messages into conversations, share documents and photos, and easily add events to your mobile calendar to keep on top of your kid's busy schedules.

PERMANENT

Your entire message history is archived so you can easily refer back to conversations in the future, plus download and share messages* in seconds for easy reference.

POSITIVE

Dani helps to keep discussions on track and positive by offering tips along the way, and ensures messages are child-focused* and appropriate*.

PERSONALIZED*

Reduce co-parenting stress by personalizing your communication preferences, including do-not-disturb, sole communication, and quick-dial to your support network.

Download the FREE version of Divvito Messenger and receive a bonus 30-day Enhanced subscription. For more information, visit divvito.com.

Frequently Asked Questions

What's the difference from messaging or email? Divvito Messenger has been designed specifically to co-parent children after a separation. All messages are securely archived so you have a permanent record of past communication, share files and photos so you can do away with email, organize multiple discussions into conversations, flag inappropriate messages received and enjoy ongoing suggestions from Dani to keep communication on track and positive.

What else can I expect from Divvito Messenger? The Enhanced subscription enables you to:

- Download messages in seconds
- Set up do-not-disturb scheduling
- Upload unlimited files and photos
- Communicate solely via Divvito
- Quick-dial your support network
- Personalize inappropriate words flagged

Dani, our A.I. messaging bot also:

- flags inappropriate messages before sending and suggests to revise
- Blocks profanities

How do I get started? Download the app from the App Store or Google Play and sign up. Dani will then help you connect with your co-parent.

Is Dani a real person? No, Dani is an A.I. messaging bot that has been programmed to keep communication child-focused and positive. Dani is still learning and might not pick up everything, so you can flag inappropriate messages too.

What if my co-parent doesn't want to use Divvito Messenger? If you think your co-parent might not be open to your suggestion, Dani has several ways to help get you connected.

What do I have to pay after the one month free Enhanced subscription? After that time, you can revert back to the free Basic version or continue with the Enhanced subscription for $96 per couple per year. Alternatively, take advantage of the Lifetime subscription if your children are young and save hundreds. Refer to divvito.com/pricing for more information.
